

THE ORDER OF ST MARTIN
DE PORRES

OBLATES APPLICATION

Patronage and Dedication

The Order takes its name in honor of the “apostle of charity” St. Martin de Porres. As one of the first people of color to serve in the Dominican clergy, St. Martin de Porres was a pioneer in charitable efforts within Peru, serving the Dominicans since the age of 15, St. Martin de Porres dedicated his life towards serving and advocating for the less fortunate.

Purpose and Mission

The Purpose of the Order of St. Martin de Porres is to successfully represent and pursuit all which St. Martin de Porres stood for and believed in, dedicating ourselves to the improvement of education, health, social status, and racial equality for all within the community. We aim to create and sustain communities that enact social change through research, training, support, and community mobilization.

The Mission of the Order of St. Martin the Porres is to build awareness, solutions, and leadership for racial and social justice within the city, by engaging in the daily life of the community, offering transformative ideas, and engaging in progressive experiences. We aim to improve the communities by enacting social change through research, training, support, community mobilization, and last but not least preaching with words when necessary but always through our lives.

We express this mission through welcoming existing clergy and laity into an ordered life, and also through the planting, facilitating, and equipping support and training of new local (Eucharistic) worship communities gathered around the Lord Jesus Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit, in the fellowship of the Apostolic Tradition and Faith passed on from our Lord Jesus Christ to His Apostles, and through them to believers of all ages.

We have two levels of engagement in the Order of St. Martin de Porres. First, there is the Oblate of St. Martin de Porres. This is an individual who has individually affiliated him/herself with the Order. They make a formal, private, time-framed promise (annually renewable or, after three years, for life) to follow the Rule of the Order in their private life as closely as their individual circumstances and prior commitments permit. Oblates are considered an extended part of the Order of St. Martin de Porres and have the letter ObSMDP after their names on documents.

Secondly, we have the ordinary Member of St. Martin de Porres. These individuals make a formal, public, time-framed promise (annually renewable or, after three years, for life) to follow the Rule of the Order in their private life as closely as their individual circumstances and prior commitments permit. Members are considered a part of the Order of St. Martin de Porres and have the letter OSMDP after their names on documents. These are individuals who have been ordained in Historical Succession through the Diocese of the Good Shepherd or are licensed by the order as they are being formed for Succession (this is helpful for those wanting to enter Succession while currently involved in ministerial care in a tradition outside the CEEC).

Collect of the Order St. Anthony

O God, who led Saint Martin de Porres by the path of humility to heavenly glory, grant that we may so follow his radiant example in this life as to merit to be exalted with him in heaven. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever.

Almighty ever-living God, increase our faith, hope, and charity, and make us love what you command, so that we may merit what you promise. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever.

The Rule

“The Rule is not intended to be a source of division and condemnation but rather an instrument of communion...It is not intended to be an end in itself but a temporal means toward our eternal life in heaven. Members bind themselves to the Rule, for the Rule defines who we are and what we are for. The 'Order' is simply the Rule in practice, and its members are those who practice it.”

1. The Daily Office – Oblates of the Order will follow the Daily Office through use of the 1979 Book of Common Prayer. Oblates are asked to pray two offices daily—the Morning Prayer (also known as Matins) and Evening Prayer (also known as Evensong).
2. The Eucharist – Oblates of the Order should receive the Eucharist once a week. It is preferable that this be done in the context of the corporate worship service you attend. If the Eucharist is not available corporately it may be celebrated privately (if the Oblate is clergy). If the Oblate is a layperson, they should only receive Communion from an ordained clergy (either present or with elements previously consecrated).

3. Spiritual Direction– Oblates of the Order will submit to Spiritual direction. Spiritual Directors may be from within or outside the Order.
 4. Confession and Absolution – Oblates of the Order will meet with a Priest Confessor at least once a year for the Rite of Confession/Reconciliation.
 5. Retreats – Oblates of the Order will be invited to participate in the Order's annual Convocation or other retreats offered by the Order.
 6. Report and Reaffirmation – Oblates of the Order must submit a yearly report of spiritual, ministerial, and educational activities and reaffirm their vows in writing to the Bishop Protector.
 7. Self-denial – Oblates of the Order will undertake to fast as physically able, or to engage in some activity that will help them put God as the focus of their life. Additionally, Oblates will give a portion of their time, talents, and resources to the Order, their parish, and those in need in their surrounding area.
 8. Support – Dues of $75/year will be paid by an Oblate in support of the Order.

The Vows

(Done privately, or if lifelong, at the Order's Convocation)

Follow the Rule -- as articulated above.

Simplicity – Oblates of the Order will learn to live with what they truly need, not frivolously by wants only, and be good stewards of Creation.

Morality – Before God, Oblates of the Order pledge their commitment to moral and sexual purity. Oblates seek purity in body, mind, and spirit, along with singleness of heart. Oblates commit themselves to purity of life and purity of expression in their sexuality through fidelity in marriage, and abstinence in singleness.

Accountability – Oblates of the Order will commit to lives of transformation through the Rule in which they are accountable to one another, their Bishop, and Elders of the Order in love. No member will ever use a position of authority as an instrument of oppression or to take advantage of another in any way. Those in authority will accept the responsibility to lead, instruct, and protect. A position of authority is a call to service rather than an opportunity for personal aggrandizement. Oblates will not slander or engage in disputes, nor should they quarrel among themselves or with others, but rather respond in all humility. They should love one another and express that love by their deeds.

Fraternity and Unity – As unity is at the heart of convergence, Oblates of the Order will respect the various streams/traditions of Christianity. Oblates will uphold the great Tradition of the Church as handed down in the Scriptures, the two Gospel sacraments (Baptism and Eucharist), the Creeds (Apostles' Creed, Nicene Creed), and the Historical Episcopacy. However, Oblates will support and encourage the participation of other members in their respective stream/tradition when those streams/traditions do not fully embrace all aspects of what the Tradition holds.

The Doctrinal Essentials

The Order of St. Martin de Porres

We affirm decision-making based on Scripture, Tradition, and Godly wisdom. The Word of God, Incarnate and written, provides the foundation for the following, which doctrines we affirm along with Apostles' and Nicene Creeds:

1. We affirm the Holy Scriptures... as self-attesting and the essence of Truth, which requires our unreserved submission in all areas of our lives. The written Word of God is a unified witness to God's redemptive acts culminating in the incarnation of the Living Word, the Lord Jesus Christ. We submit to the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds as guidance for the determination of the doctrines we affirm and emphasize.

2. As we endeavor to meet the standards of God's love... we believe we are to participate in the Great Commission: "Go make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you." We believe that ALL people have value to God—that each one is a dream of God come true (Ps. 139, Acts 17:16-28), whether or not they are people of faith. We believe God is working in every heart in all places at all times. Evangelism is more about helping people discover and surrender to the working of God and his "testimony" already happening in their lives than it is anything else (Acts 14:1-17).

3. We affirm the Author of Life... the stewardship of creation, through environmental preservation, and the protection and validation of the irrevocable and inherent sanctity and dignity of all forms of human life - from conception to the grave. We affirm and pursue the peaceful resolution and reconciliation of conflicts between persons, groups, and nations...

Oblate Statement and Pledge of Fraternity

The Order of St. Martin de Porres

“In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, diversity; in all things, charity.”

--St. Augustine

Inclusion in the Order of St. Anthony, the Diocese of St. Anthony, and the Province USA of the CEEC calls for commitment to the basic ideals for relationship, standards of behavior, and accountability to a pledge of fraternity.

As orthodoxy and personal morality is expected, so relationships of trust, mutual support, camaraderie, love and respect are anticipated.

ALL OBLATES COVENANT TO:

1. Do nothing to fracture the unity of the Order of St. Martin de Porres, the Diocese of the Good Shepherd, and the CEEC. This unity is understood as proceeding from the love of God between us and mutual commitment to the Truth of God received in Christ through the historic, catholic, and apostolic faith.
2. Uphold and support fellow Members, whether laity, deacons, priests, pastors, and bishops, both publicly and privately.
3. Do everything possible to create and contribute to an atmosphere of cooperation.
4. Deal with differences honestly, forthrightly and in a straightforward manner.
5. Settle contention privately in the matter of personal conflict. Should the problems persist, adjudication will follow through the Order's Council of Elders. All Members agree to submit to the final decision of the Order of St. Martin de Porres, the Diocese of the Good Shepherd, and the CEEC in settling areas of conflict.
6. To adhere to the standards of the inspired Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the Word of God, the Rule and Vows of the Order of St. Martin de Porres, and the Canons of the Diocese of the Good Shepherd and the CEEC as the governing guidelines for our life and ministry together in Jesus Christ.
7. Send $75 annual dues to: The Diocese of the Good Shepherd, through our online giving portal

Failure to maintain both the spirit and the letter of this agreement constitutes grounds for removal as a Oblate in Good Standing in the Order of St. Martin de Porres, the Diocese of the Good Shepherd, and the CEEC. In contrast, we agree to pray for one another daily, respond immediately to need or personal call, stand together in controversy, disagree in charity, and persevere in supporting our corporate calling.

Signed by the Oblate below on this, the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord, 20____, in the city of _____, in the state of _____, in the country of the United States of America.
